Dear Recruiter,

I am writing in response to the advertisement posted for a Software Engineer with IBM As a highly competent programmer with expert knowledge C++ and Java, I feel confident that my background makes me the right fit to help IBM reach the next level of success in the competitive world of software industry.

I offer 5 years developing software for embedded systems and mobile and web applications, a strong aptitude for learning new technologies and skill in meeting aggressive goals. The experience was challenging and it jumpstarted my interest in software development. My experience highlights include:

Software Development: I bring over 5 years developing software for embedded systems, front-end website design and mobile applications in both a Windows and Linux/UNIX environment. I'm experienced and comfortable working with large Java code bases I am also proficient in C++, Javascript, and Python, and have some knowledge about MySQL.

Open-Source Project: During college and graduate school, I've gained some experience in Data Mining and contributed in some comprehensive course projects. I'm comfortable working on open-source projects on Github platform, and hope to make more contributions.

Overall, I feel that my knowledge as a programmer in various fields of software industry and my willingness to learn new technologies makes me the ideal candidate to meet your development needs. I'd be glad to discuss my abilities and background in more detail. Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
Haochen Wang
